RED CROSS ROLL CALL IS ANSWERED BY THOUSANDS

Campaign for Re-Enlistment of Annual Members is Now in Progress—Many Are Joining.

The Fourth Roll Call of the American Red Cross is on. It began Armistice Day and will continue through Thanksgiving Day, November 25.

In the national enrollment 10,500,000 members are sought while in Lake Division—Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky—a membership of 1,500,000 is the goal.

In order to carry out its vast peace program, which embraces tasks of great magnitude both at home and in foreign lands, the Red Cross needs the united support of the American people.

Europe is looking to the Red Cross for relief during the coming winter, when cold and hunger again will menace thousands, particularly in the impoverished countries of the east.

Hundreds of thousands of children in Eastern Europe are dependent upon outside relief and great numbers will die during the winter unless assistance in some measure is extended.

Just as the Roll Call opens word comes of the death in South Russia of Captain Emmett Kilpatrick of the Red Cross at the hands of the Bolsheviks during a cavalry raid.

This illustrates, in a striking way, the self-sacrificing service the Red Cross is performing and how its workers are laying down their lives in the line of duty.

Maintenance of the Disaster Relief Service, to which many in Lake Division owe debts of gratitude; development of the Public Health Nursing Service and Health Centers and extension of Home Service work are some of the tasks faced at home.

To what extent the Red Cross will be able to meet the pressing needs in this country depends upon the response of the American people in the Roll Call.

The message of the Red Cross was delivered to thousands of churchgoers on Red Cross Sunday, November 14. At all of the local churches special appeals were made by the ministers.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS INITIATE LARGE CLASS ON SUNDAY

Initiation of Large Class is Followed by Splendid Banquet—Prominent Visitors Are Speakers.

A brilliant event was the exemplification of the three degrees by the Knights of Columbus, as they were enacted for the Mayville Council, K. of C., at Eagle's Hall, yesterday in the presence of a large concourse of brothers of that order from various proximate and distant points in the states of Kentucky and Ohio.

The 8 o'clock Parolonia mass having been attended by the membership and candidates, not in a body, the initiatory services were scheduled to begin at 10 o'clock. Much favorable comment was expressed by the visiting and local Knights at the work in the first degree, which, for the first time, was exemplified by a team made up from the local Knights, who in every detail acquitted themselves in a manner as to win applause for themselves, and a prestige to the Mayville Council.

The other degree work, the second of which was exemplified by the Covington Council, the third by Hon. John J. Dogovan, State Deputy, and his unequalled team, was performed to the complete satisfaction of the candidates and to the edification of the witnessing Knights.

With no intermission but the lunch hour, the degree work was not completed until 7:30 p. m., when a much enjoyed banquet was spread at Neptune Hall, which in brilliancy was in keeping with the ceremonies of the day.

Hon. William J. McCanley, Commonwealth Judge, Edward T. Dixon, Mr. Gym Maher, all of Cincinnati; Hon. Timothy Hogan, former Attorney General of the State of Ohio, and Colonel P. H. Callahan, Louisville, Ky., high lights in the field of oratory whose fame as post-prandial speakers is nationwide, sent regrets at their inability to grace the occasion. But regretted as was the fact of their absence, as was remarked by the Toastmaster, Hon. Frank P. O'Donnell, yet the event was not wanting in oratory of brilliancy, and shafts of humor, which by turns, lifted up the audience to the heights of sublime, or convulsed them with roars of laughter.

The reverend clergy was represented by the Rev. Lawrence Wessell, of St. William Church, Price Hall, Cincinnati, Ohio, who thrilled with eloquence his wrapt auditors by the eloquence of his patriotic remarks for the continued loyalty of the Knights of Columbus for church and state. State Deputy, John J. Doneval, Ludlow, Ky., District Deputy, Charles H. Purdy, Covington, Ky., Hon. Matt Hennessy, Augusta, Mr. Albert Crehs, Newport, all made addresses which will long live in memory. Yesterday's class of neophytes numbered eighty, adding materially to the membership of the local Council, which, in the face of seeming insurmountable obstacles has during the past year and half, more than trebled the number of its members.

BASEBALL MAGNATES MEET AT LEXINGTON TONIGHT

Mayor T. M. Russell To Meet With Other Kentucky Baseball Enthusiasts to Consider Organization.

Baseball enthusiasts of the state of Kentucky will meet at the Phoenix hotel in Lexington tonight for the purpose of considering the organization of a baseball league for the state to begin operation next spring.

Mayor Thomas M. Russell, former president of the Bluegrass Baseball League, has been asked by those behind the movement to be present to give them the benefit of his experience and to represent the city of Mayville, which has been offered a free franchise in the new league.

It is understood that the magnates tonight will discuss the matter of a semi-professional league for games on Saturday and Sunday only, and to include such cities as Lexington, Cincinnati, Paris, Nicholasville, Covington and Mayville. Such a proposition would probably receive hearty support from the Mayville fans and baseball enthusiasts and Mayor Russell left this afternoon by automobile to be present at the meeting.

OPINION COMPLIES.

JUDGE AND PROSECUTOR.

The opinion of the Kentucky Court of Appeals in the Ramsey murder case has just been received in Mayville. The opinion is by Justice Carroll and highly complimentary both Circuit Judge C. D. Newell and District Prosecutor B. S. Grammis in their handling of the case. Judge Carroll says Judge Newell made no mistake in the conduct of the case and was perfectly correct in asking for state troops to guard the Jackson county court house. He also says that District Prosecutor Grammis was more than fair in giving the defendant every possible chance.

ON THE TRAIL OF MIL BUNNY.

The Kentucky game law was out this morning and hundreds of Mayville and Mason County Nimrods took to the fields for their first hunt. Rabbits are not so plentiful this season as last according to the farmers. County Clerk James Owens has issued over 400 hunters' licenses which is just about half the number issued last year.

CORN INCREASES WHILE TOBACCO DECREASES IN STATE

November Crop Report For Kentucky Shows Considerable Shortage Of Tobacco From Last Year.

Kentucky's 1920 tobacco crop is estimated at 420,750,000 pounds, corn 96,624,000 bushels and potatoes 6,732,000 bushels in the November crop report for Kentucky issued today at Louisville and Frankfort by the U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates in co-operation with State Commissioner of Agriculture W. C. Hanna. Other crops reported for Kentucky are: sweet potatoes, 1,680,000 bushels, apples 5,780,000 bushels, pears 308,000 bushels, clover seed 52,500 bushels, and sorghum straw 2,888,000 gallons. Last year Kentucky's production of these crops was: tobacco 456,500,000 pounds, corn 82,500,000 bushels, potatoes 5,040,000 bushels, sweet potatoes 1,680,000 bushels, apples 1,480,000 bushels, pears 128,000 bushels, clover seed, 38,000 bushels and sorghum straw 2,542,000 gallons.

The decrease in tobacco production in Kentucky from 1919 is due to decreased acreage in Western Kentucky which was not fully offset by the increased burley acreage. The damage by rust and "wildfire" also helped slightly to reduce the average yield per acre. Quality of tobacco in Kentucky is reported as 80 per cent compared to 81 per cent last year. The United States tobacco crop this season is estimated at 1,475,444,000 pounds compared to 1,389,458,000 pounds last year.

It is estimated that approximately 5 per cent of Kentucky's acreage of corn was put into silos this season, the average yield per acre being about 7 tons. There was comparatively little frost damage to corn in this state but some is now being reported as chaffy and not well matured. The average yield per acre this year in Kentucky is 30½ bushels, compared to 25 bushels last year and a 10-year average of 27½ bushels.

GREATEST TRAIN ROBBERY IN CENTURY REPEATED

$1,200,000 Stolen From Gold Car Routed From San Francisco Minn. To Washington Treasury Last Night.

Omaha, Neb. November 15.—Three men are under arrest at Council Bluffs, Iowa, today in connection with the robbery of $1,200,000 from a Burlington fast mail train. Two of the men held are mail clerks who say they believe that they know who robbed the car. The other man is reported to have confessed.

A part of the loot was a treasury shipment of gold coin from the U. S. mint at San Francisco to the U. S. Treasury in Washington. In addition there was a vast quantity of currency, bonds and registered mail. It is declared to be the biggest train robbery in 25 years.

The gold car was placed in the center of the fast train to Chicago and was securely locked and bolted when it left this place. When the train drew up at Council Bluffs a postal clerk attempted to enter the car, but found that the door was locked from the inside. He summoned aid and broke down the door. The interior of the car was in disorder and almost empty. A window on one side of the car had been broken and it is believed that the gold and mail bags were thrown through this window while the train was in motion.

Evidence that automobiles waited beside the tracks has been found. Inspectors are investigating a report that the gold was taken to the Missouri River and loaded on a motor boat.

OUR POLIOY

And likewise to support and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

THE AUGAN STABLES.

"As measured by the terms of the Republican platform and by the conditions which confront the nation, the task assumed by the Republican party is by no means a light one," declares the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., in a statement issued today. "The task would be difficult regardless of the party that assumed it or the pledges it had made. Following eight years of profligacy in Federal administration and a like period of development of a bureaucracy, getting back to government by law and government in accordance with sound economy will not be easy. To increase public expenditures is always easy; to curtail is doubly difficult for the reason that people have become accustomed to certain government activities and expect continuance even though the new activity may be a duplication of work performed by another bureau.

"Getting back to government by law will be a considerable undertaking, for officialdom at Washington has learned to look upon government as a delegation of almost unlimited authority to exercise discretion in telling the American people what they may and may not do from time to time. The idea of putting regulations definitely and specifically upon the statute books so that a citizen may put his finger upon the page and paragraph that establishes his duties or limits his liberty, is repugnant to bureaucracy. A new postmaster general may acquiesce in such an innovation but all down the line of subordinates it will be difficult to get over the idea that the P. M. G. is a little king. Yet, getting back to government by law waste the first pledge of the Republican platform, and it will be carried out.

"The subject of taxation is one that will require early attention. On this subject the Republican platform did not undertake to deceive the people. The platform declares, 'The burden of taxation imposed upon the American people is staggering; but in presenting a true statement of the situation we must face the fact that while the character of the taxes can and should be changed, an early reduction of the amount of revenue to be raised is not to be expected. The next Republican administration will inherit from its Democratic predecessor a floating indebtedness of over three billion dollars, the prompt liquidation of which is demanded by sound financial considerations. Moreover, the whole fiscal policy of the government must be deeply influenced by the necessity of meeting obligations in excess of five billion dollars which mature in 1923. But sound policy equally demands the early accomplishment of that real reduction of the tax burden which may be achieved by substituting simple for complex tax laws and procedure; prompt and certain determination of tax liability for delay and uncertainty; tax laws which do not for tax laws which do, excessively in the consumer or needlessly repress enterprise and thrift."

"Needless and unjustified though they are, the debts created by the Democratic administration are legal obligations of the government, and the Republican administration has no choice but to provide means of payment. Moreover, the debt were accumulated in a period of inflation and must be paid during a period of deflation. Debt accumulated with 40 cents dollars must be paid with 100 cent dollars.

"The Republican platform promises maintenance of national honor and respect for the rights of American citizens abroad. Encouragement of agriculture; promotion of peaceful settlement of industrial disputes; restoration of an efficient railroad system, rebuilding of the merchant marine; return to the protective principles in tariff legislation; revision of the naturalization laws, and restoration of efficiency in the public service, are other pledges which the Republican platform made and which the party will proceed to fulfill. The job is a big one, but the party is equal to the task."

CHEMISTRY MAY

CHANGE MENUS.

Chemistry is the new great wonder. If half the discoveries reported to the American Chemical Society achieve what is expected of them. We shall have as many substitutes for familiar articles as German ingenuity devised during the war. The announcement that cheaper fuel is possible will be received with enthusiasm. A mixture of coal and petroleum waste, half-coked coal and lignite, of which there are large deposits in the Middle West, all may reduce materially our present excessive coal bills.

Sirup made from sweet potatoes sounds like a German "Ersatz." To be sure, sirup has been made of late from almost everything except molasses. The maple sirup of commerce is usually guilts of any relationship to the sugar maple which made Vermont famous. Sweet potato sirup, we are told, contains a large proportion of maltose, by reason of which it gives a rich brown crust to loaves and cakes. Vanilla extract now dangerously associated with alcohol, may hereafter be made with glycerine. So it will not have to be banished to the limbo to which rum has been exiled. Perhaps chemistry may yet make wines with the old flavor but without the old kick.

The suggestion that cattle feed may be made out of sawdust is most intriguing. An earlier but unscientific experimenter found that the horse died just as soon as he had become accustomed to the lack of all food. The change from grain to sawdust may be less fatal. Perhaps the human stomach may be equally adequate to the task of supporting life on chemically prepared substances of every sort. Why not abolish meat, fish, eggs, vegetables—all the expensive articles of diet? Chemistry will thus be amply justified of its children. — New York Tribune.

EXPLOSION CAUSED BY DUST.

When the Bureau of Chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture started investigations with the object of reducing fires and explosions caused by dust in the grain elevator and mills it was not long before the experts realized these fires and explosions were by no means confined to the grain business. These dust-explosion investigations are having wide influence, which has extended to many industries. Aluminum dust, starch and even fish meal, a by-product of fish canneries, have all been found susceptible to the conditions which produce disastrous explosions.

The latest development goes to prove that the mysterious "blow sacks" so well known to firemen are in some cases caused by dust. With the knowledge of this fact as a guide many fatal accidents may be avoided. The firemen of America find the matter of sufficient importance to warrant their co-operation with the Department of Agriculture in a study of preventive methods.

The subject was taken up by the National Firemen's Association at their twenty-second annual convention at Peoria, Ill., Engineers engaged in the dust-explosion investigations represented the Department of Agriculture at the meeting.

SCIENTIFIC FACTS ABOUT BASEBALL.

When next you see a baseball game you will find it more interesting if you realize that a thrown ball travels 120 miles an hour, or at twice the speed of the fastest railroad train, it travels from second base to the home plate, or from first base to third base in one second.

See the man pick up the bat; he is going to hit the ball. At all events he will try to hit it. A little over four-fifths of a second elapses from the instant when the ball leaves the pitcher's hand to the instant when it is struck by the bat.

The man has hit the ball. If it is a straight hard drive the ball will travel at a speed of something like 150 miles an hour.

It was, let us say, a two-base hit. The runner stands at second base and the pitcher winds up for a fresh effort. He is a fast pitcher, and the ball he sends over the plate is one of his swiftest. It travels at a speed of two and two-fifths miles a minute, or 210 feet a second.

Bang! It is a home run this time. The runner, if doing his best, covers the distance between each two bases in three and a half seconds. The circuit he must cover is a track 360 feet in length, or a little less than one-fifth of a mile, without reckoning the departure he makes from the exact line of the course.

The 360 feet corresponds to the degrees of a circle. If a circle be drawn so that all four points of the baseball diamond fall upon its circumference, the first base, second base, third base and home plate will be located at the 90, 180, 270 and 360 degrees marks. The pitcher's station is in the approximate center.

Baseball is really governed by mathematics. It is a highly scientific pursuit. Those who understand it best are even now learning a great deal about it which they did not know before by a systematic study of pictures taken with the so-called "slow motion" camera.

This sort of camera takes photographs at tremendous speed, 120 of

INTEREST IN EFFORT TO STAMP OUT THE RED PLAGUE GROWS

Municipal Authorities in the Nation's Large Cities Are Taking Keen Interest in Health Service's Efforts.

Washington, D. C. — The U. S. Public Health Service reports that the interest of the municipal authorities of the 444 largest cities in the country in the methods by which the great Red Plague may best be stamped out is rapidly increasing as the time draws near for making, with the cooperation of the State Boards of Health, the second survey or census of the work done by individual cities.

"In the first survey, made last February," says Surgeon Gen. Cumming of the Public Health Service, "the cities were marked according to the vigor of their fight against the plague, being awarded so many points for various medical measures, so many for preventive educational work, so many for restrictive laws and their enforcement, and so on, with a total possible maximum of 1000. The cities were then divided into four classes according to their population and each class was graded according to its aggregate mark."

"The results of this first survey, however, were brought to the knowledge of the municipal authorities only and were not made generally public; for it was feared that the relative standing of the cities would be taken to indicate relative freedom from the great Red Plague and not vigor of attack upon it and might be used to discredit cities that stood low on the list."

"Such inference might easily be unfair. The grading was for comparative measures against the plague and not for freedom from it; and a strong fight might indicate either an effort to drive out a strongly entrenched invader or a mere preparedness against an enemy that had not yet obtained a serious foothold. Similarly, lack of fight might indicate either utter submission or entire freedom from invasion."

"Knowledge of the facts shown by this survey, however, though confined to the municipal authorities of the cities concerned and to medical men has had a tremendous effect, for it has aroused the competitive spirit of the authorities, inciting those of city that stand low in the list to improve their standing and of those that stand high to fresh efforts to maintain their rank. All, of course, in preparation for the second survey, the results of which, as announcements, are to be made public."

"It also brought home to many city governments, formerly indifferent the alarming prevalence of the great Red Plague. It also emphasized the fact that the twin diseases of the plague were now considered to be the greatest single factor affecting public health, causing a vast amount of invalidism among married women and killing or blinding for life an appalling number of children, besides working mental and physical havoc on thousands of men whose suffering only a few years ago would have been ascribed to other causes.

"Letters to the Public Health Service from city authorities in all parts of the country show that mayors, councils, city boards of health and others are all anxious for their cities to show marked improvement since the first survey. Many writers confess that they had not known the seriousness of the problem and had regarded the movement against the plague as a war measure that was not supposed to be continued in time of peace. Many also mention steps that have now been taken, or that will soon be taken, to put the preventive measures adopted by their cities on a permanent budget basis—that is, to class the fight as routine work and to provide for it as regularly as for the cleaning of the streets, the maintenance of the fire department, or any other city function."

"Publicity is of course a very important part of the fight for better protection against this insidious enemy. To this end it is hoped that the result of subsequent surveys made in cooperation with the state health authorities, may be widely disseminated, with particular stress on the progress made since February. Whatever action is taken in regard to the future surveys there will be held in Washington, November 22 to December 4, as incidental to first survey, an institute organized by the Public Health Service, which will offer to physicians and administrative specialists free ten-day courses in the latest and best control curative methods now used against the twin diseases. The session of the institute will immediately be followed by the meeting on December 6 of a great All-American conference at which the most eminent physicians, administrators and social workers of the western hemisphere will gather for a six-day session to exchange experiences as to the best methods, both social and medical, of combating the plague."

FATHER WAS ONCE A BOY.

Johnny liked ice cream, but he drew the line at turning the freezer. One day when his mother returned home she was agreeably surprised to find him working away at the crank as though his life depended on it.

"I don't see how you got him to turn the freezer," she said to her husband. "I offered him a dime to do it."

"You didn't go at it the right way, my dear," replied her husband. "I bet him a nickel he couldn't turn it for half an hour." — Boston Transcript.

WHAT SHE HINTED.

"Do you ever go hunting?" asked a friend.

"No, but my wife does," was the reply.

"Your wife?"

"Yes."

"What for?"

"Oh, for burglars, or fire, or parasites, or trouble, or my salary; it's always hard to tell in advance." — Houston Post.

CONSIDERABLE IS INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITY DURING THE FALL

Manufacturers' Record Announces
Much Activity Throughout
Southland for Winter Months.

Large coal-handling terminals, to cost ultimately $5,000,000 and have a capacity of 12,000 tons daily for export, will be established at Savannah, Ga., by a recently organized coal and dock company with offices in New York, according to the weekly summary of the Southern Industrial News published by the Manufacturers' Record. A terminal with a capacity of about 2,500 cars will be provided, and a large canal will be dredged to insure efficient handling of material.

The Standard Oil Co. at Baltimore has acquired 28 acres of land adjoining its refinery at Canton, and this will provide for plant extensions which when completed will cost between $7,000,000 and $10,000,000. The construction of six storage tanks with a capacity of about 75,000 barrels each will be started at once. At Covington and Rayville, La., oil companies have organized with capital of $1,000,000 and $500,000 each, respectively. At Houston, Texas, an oil development company has been organized with a capital of $300,000, and at San Antonio a similar concern incorporates with a capital of $250,000. A Kansas City, Mo., petroleum company has been organized with a capital of $500,000, and another at Mexico, Mo., has its capital increased to $1,000,000 to permit extensions and improvements to its present plant.

Activity in the coal fields of the various producing states continues, that in West Virginia being especially interesting. To permit an increase in output up to 75,000 tons annually of plants just purchased a newly-organized concern at Berkeley has taken a capital of $8,000,000. Coal companies have been organized at Charleston, Welch and Huntington, and in Clay and Kanawha counties, with capitals of $500,000 each. In Middlebury, Va., the organization of a $200,000 coal company is noted. At Guthrie, Okla., a coke and mining company has been incorporated with a capital of $1,000,000. The capital of a mining company in Harard, Ky., has been increased from $200,000 to $400,000, providing for an increase in production to 35,000 tons daily.

Activity in general building continues throughout the several States, so promises to increase during the winter months if weather conditions are favorable. At Dallas, Texas, a board-in home and administration building will be erected by a girls' association there at a cost of $800,000, and at Houston a modern bank building of stone and reinforced concrete will be erected at a cost of $350,000, while Austin is to have a $250,000 memorial gateway at the entrance to the campus of the university. At Tulsa, Okla., contract has been awarded for the erection of a Masonic temple building at a cost of $200,000. In Memphis, Tenn., work has started on the erection of an auditorium and market-house to cost $750,000.

Within the next few years the extension and improvement of telephone equipment in Shreveport, La., will entail an expenditure of $1,500,000, according to plans just announced.

A number of land developments have been started at Miami, Fla., and Traloe, W. Va., companies with capitals of $1,000,000 having been formed at each place.

A factory for manufacturing belts, gloves and miscellaneous articles made from rubber will be erected at San Jose, Texas, at a cost of $300,000. An automobile company has been formed at Jackson, Miss., with a capital of $500,000. About $400,000 will be expended in railroad improvements at Shreveport, La. An electric battery company was organized during the past week in Atlanta, Ga., having a capital of $300,000.

A clothing company at Louisville, Ky., had its capital increased from $250,000 to $400,000, and a twine and thread concern in Baltimore increased from $200,000 to $500,000. Additions and improvements to factory and storage buildings will be made by a flour company in Lexington, Ky.

BIG CALL FOR RECRUITS ISSUED BY GEN. HARRIS

Over Six Thousand Men Will Be Recruited at Once For Second Division at Camp Travis.

A call went out today to recruiting officers throughout the United States to enlist 6,088 men at once for the Second Division, now stationed at Camp Travis, Texas, which is being recruited to full strength upon telegraphic orders from Major General P. C. Harris, the Adjutant General of the Army. There are needed 2,623 men for infantry, 1,263 for field artillery, 342 for engineers, and 536 for the medical regiment. These soldiers must be enlisted before December 10, and the War Department has authorized that the Second Division take priority over recruiting for any other special organization.

Until full strength has been reached, all men available for general assignment who are enlisted for branches of the service represented in the Second Division will be sent to Camp Travis.

The capacity of the various Army schools will be doubled to accommodate the flood of recruits expected. At Camp Travis all manner of trades are taught: carpentry, drawing, cabinet making, painting, steamfitting, plumbing, electrical work, and printing. There is a first-class agricultural school on the reservation, and a 400-acre farm with a herd of blooded stock. Quoting a War Department bulletin:

"The schools for general education are working as smoothly as any in the city of Dallas. It is amazing what rapid attention the students give to their work. Grades are established and frequent examinations held, so that men advance as fast as their ability permits. The teachers are expert civilians, getting appropriate salaries. Many of them are women, and they are also very much enthused with their work."

"The choice of the Second Division as the one to be brought to maximum strength is due in greatest part to the splendid facilities offered at Camp Travis for all-year round training and to its permanency and the exceptionally agreeable surroundings for a military garrison. San Antonio is now one of the premier winter resorts of the United States, where the grass is green and flowers bloom all the year around, and zero weather is never known."

MOTHERS WHO WORRY SHOULD READ THIS LETTER

It Proves That Vinol Will Build Up Frail, Ailing Children.

Mrs. L. Andrews, Bainbridge, N. Y., says: "My little daughter was run-down, tired all the time, pale, thin and nervous, and had headaches so we had to take her out of school. Vinol has built her up, she has a good appetite, no more headaches, her color is good and she has returned to school."

Vinol owes its success in such cases to the tissue-building extractives of fresh cod's livers, without oil, aided by the blood and strength-creating elements of tonic iron, beef peptones and glycerophosphates which it contains.

Thus in a natural manner it creates a healthy appetite, aids digestion and makes rich, red blood and the result is a good healthy color, strength and vitality.

When the projected line of railway across Australia has been completed the traveler on it will be comforted with what will be, probably, the dearest railway journey in the world. The greater part of the route lies through a desert region, practically devoid of life, and utterly uninteresting.

According to figures compiled by the United States Department of Agriculture, the men in the city eat two-thirds more beef, veal and mutton than the man in the country, but the man in the country eats two-thirds more pork than the man in the city and one-half more poultry.

As an illustration of the cunning of the fox hunters have told how an animal hard pressed in the chase has come across a comrade, and apparently persuaded it to take up the running in full view of the field, while the tired one remained hidden until the danger was past.

TOBACCO GROWERS TO ASK SECOND ESTIMATE.

Belief that the tobacco crop estimate for Kentucky prepared and announced by the United States Department of Agriculture Saturday is incorrect and likely to do much harm to the industry in the state, prompted a movement which began Sunday among farmers and warehousemen to have the government make an official re-estimate of the crop.

An effort may be made to enlist the aid of the Lexington Board of Commerce in the movement at a special meeting already called for today at noon at the Lafayette Hotel to consider other matters.

HUNTING SEASON IS OPEN; ENDS JANUARY 1

Game and Fish Executive Agent Gives Out Don't at the Opening of the Season.

The hunting season is open. Midnight bells pealed the beginning of a period of uneasiness for game. Approximately 450 persons, including several women, are licensed to hunt in the county, stores report large sales of arms and ammunition, as well as hunting clothes, and indications point to a good season. It will close January 1.

In the final statement before the opening of the hunting season, R. S. Tuttle, executive agent of the State Game and Fish Commission, made the following pleas:

Don't shoot without this year's hunting license.

Don't kill more than 15 doves in one day, and don't shoot doves after December 15. Don't kill more than 12 quail in one day. Don't kill more than six woodcock in one day.

Don't kill wild turkey, imported pheasants or Hungarian partridges this year. A law prohibits killing them before November 15, 1924.

Don't hunt, pursue, chase, catch, injure, molest or kill deer. Don't kill any wood duck, elder duck or swan. Don't kill, trap or have in your possession any song or insectivorous birds.

Don't kill all the quail in a covey. Leave some for seed. The above points are part of the state game and fish protective laws, and, according to Mr. Tuttle, all who fail to observe them to the letter will be prosecuted.

How Do You Feel When You Stoop?

Slow and sluggish movements, tired action, backache, rheumatic pains, stiff joints or sore muscles indicate that something in the human system is out of order. In most cases, these symptoms are the result of waste matter or poisonous acids being left in the blood by the failure of the kidneys to properly do their work of filtering and casting out impurities from the blood.

STOPPED HIS BACKACHE

"I am 70 years old. I tried Foley Kidney Pills, thinking I needed them—as my back was hurting and aching all the time. I got so bad that when I would stoop over in the store with a sack of goods I could hardly raise my head. After taking just one bottle of Foley Kidney Pills, my backache was entirely gone and I felt good and strong. I think they are the greatest remedy for backache and irregularities of the bladder."—W. F. Tolson, U. S. D. I., Washington, Pa.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

have been used by young, middle-aged and old with complete satisfaction. You will find them different from all other remedies. They act quickly and surely and have given relief in cases of years' standing. If you have cause to suspect your kidneys are weak, disordered or inactive, you should act immediately.
